This is a statutory form made under regulation 3 of the Burial (Applications and Register) (Scotland) Regulations 2024 and the information and questions contained in it should not be changed.

This form must be used to apply for the burial of the remains of a stillborn baby in Scotland. A stillborn baby is a baby delivered after 24 weeks gestation without showing any signs of life. The application is made to the burial authority you want to carry out the burial. The burial authority is the organisation responsible for managing the burial ground where the burial is to take place.

As the person who is applying for the burial, you are 'the applicant'. You must have the legal right to apply for the burial.

The burial authority will need to check the form to make sure it contains all of the necessary information. Missing or inaccurate information may result in the burial being delayed or refused. If you are unsure about what information is required, or what any part of the form means, you can speak to the funeral director who is making the arrangements, staff at the burial authority or to any other person who is arranging the funeral. It is not a requirement to use the services of a funeral director to arrange a burial but where one is being used, the funeral director must sign the relevant part of this form.

Accompanying document

You should ensure that you have attached all required documents to this application form based on where the death occurred. The burial authority needs to have them for the burial to take place. Different documents are required depending on whether the death occurred in Scotland, England or Wales, Northern Ireland or abroad. See the Guidance Notes (a) for more information.

Personal data

The information provided on this form is a legal requirement under the Burial and Cremation (Scotland) Act 2016 and will be processed in line with data protection legislation. The data will be held by the burial authority. It will be held securely, in confidence and processed solely for purposes set out by or under the Burial and Cremation (Scotland) Act 2016. It will not be shared with any third party, party other than an inspector of burial, if requested. You have the right to know what data is held about you and you can, by contacting the burial authority in writing, receive a copy of that data. The burial authority is obliged to include in their privacy notice how the information will be held, for how long and how you may make a complaint to the Information Commissioner's Office.

Terms & Conditions (Abbreviated)

These regulations are designed to remind visitors of their responsibility in ensuring the scenic quality and biodiversity of the burial ground is protected. Thank you for your support in assisting us to keep CairnBrae Natural Burial Ground as natural as possible.

No marking of the grave is allowed in any way, except by the approved tree of remembrance or memorial stone supplied and tended to by management. To remain a true natural burial ground, any flowers, vases, ornaments, shrubs etc will be removed in order to maintain the integrity of the site.

It is the responsibility of the applicant to ensure all visitors are aware of this important rule.

Funeral Directors must be informed that the coffin or container must be made of bio-degradable material (no metal handles, plaques or plastic liners). Funeral directors must also be informed that the use of chemical preservation treatments is not permitted unless in exceptional circumstances (such as repatriation) and only with approval from the management.

Scattering of ashes anywhere in the burial ground is not permitted as ashes can burn tree and plant roots when applied on the soil surface.

The burial ground is intended to remain a natural habitat for wildlife to thrive in, so we require families to refrain from cutting grass or other plants on their loved one's grave.

There are mown grass pathways throughout the burial ground and we kindly ask visitors to use these to allow any wildflowers to establish surrounding the paths.

Families may decide to lay a memorial field stone within the plot and understand that it may be partially hidden at times of the year due to the growth of grasses and wildflowers. Each stone will vary in shape and size and will be inscribed with first name, surname and birth and death year of the deceased. We cannot guarantee memorial stones as they are made of natural sandstone material and will weather accordingly.

Families may decide to plant a native birch tree within the plot. We plant trees in the appropriate planting season (Nov – Mar) and maintain and guarantee them for 3 years. Our recycled oak memorial benches are guaranteed for 10 years.

The dry-stone walls around the burial ground are very old and are home to a vast array of wildlife. They are unstable and we ask that you do not climb or lean on them, or the cairn, for safety reasons.

Families understand that it may be necessary for the management to temporarily place soil or equipment on their lair in order to carry out an interment adjacent to their lair.

The burial ground is not a manicured park and the ground surface is uneven so please ensure you wear sensible footwear. During winter months it can be very cold, and we recommend that you wear appropriate clothing.

Children under the age of 16 years must always be accompanied and supervised by an adult.

Only visiting families are permitted to bring dogs into the burial ground. Dogs are to be kept on a lead and for many reasons it is imperative that you clean up after your dog.

Cars are parked entirely at owner's risk. The management is unable to take responsibility for cars and their contents.

The burial ground is laid out on a surveyed grid system and each grave's location is accurately recorded on a Burial & Grave Register.

To allow for appropriate tree management, plots are allocated sequentially. Families may purchase plots adjacent to the deceased's plot no later than 3 days prior to the time of the deceased's burial. Adjacent plots cannot be guaranteed after this time.

The owner of the plot is not entitled to sell or transfer it to any other person and understands that the plot fee is non-refundable.

In the unlikely event that unforeseen ground conditions are encountered during the preparation of a grave (ie: a large boulder), that may unavoidably affect the availability of certain plots, the management reserves the right to allocate reasonable alternative locations.

We will only store your personal data for the purposes you would expect us to and contact you when there is a legitimate need to do so.

I hereby agree to the abbreviated terms & conditions detailed above and to the full terms & conditions which are available on request.
